

Setup Guide

Database

The database is live hosted, and everyone who has the project has access to it. Therefore you don't need to configure appsettings.json and add your own database. If you still want to add your own database, you can find our exported collections in the MongoDB folder.

LocalHost URL

In the backend, you can configure the local host url at the top in the root.js file

In the frontend, you can configure the local host url in the LUrl.js file in Components.

Starting the project

When you have made all the configurations you need, press F5 to start the backend, split your terminal, type “cd electricgames” and then “npm start”.

Your project should be running 😊